VARDAMAN AND WILLIAMS IN ACCORD

Work in Double Harness On Indian Bill Despite Recent Crash.

In behalf of the Choctaws of Mississippi and Louisiana, Senators Williams and Vardaman have forgotten other causes for disagreement. They are going to work for the elimination from the Indian appropriation bill of an item appropriating $100 to each of the Choctaws now on the rolls of that tribe. They are not opposed to the enrolled Choctaws receiving that much of the money due them for the property they turned over to the United States. Their opposition is merely to the fact that the Choctaws who remained in their old homes are not included in the distribution.

The two Senators, who expressed their disagreeing views on the tolls repeal proposition in language that could not readily be misunderstood, are not exactly putting their heads together in behalf of the stay-at-home Indians. They are merely taking concurrent action.

This agreement by the two Senators is due to the efforts of Representative Harrison, who with the help of colleagues in the Mississippi and Louisiana delegation eliminated the item from the Indian bill while that measure was in the House. They first beat it on a point of order, and then made their victory sure by beating it on a roll call. The item was reinserted while the bill was in the Senate committee.

If the Choctaws in Oklahoma will recognize their brethren as having a right to be enrolled there will be no further opposition to the distribution of assets. Until, however, they are prepared to do so, the Mississippi and Louisiana Indians expect to be able to prevent action of any kind. In fact, they are rather thinking of assuming the aggressive and forcing their names upon the rolls, whether the Oklahoma Choctaws like it or not.

If You Would Vote You Must Register Before July 2nd.

July 2nd will be the last day on which you can register so that you may vote in the August elections. If you will be twenty-one years of age before November you are entitled to register and vote. If you have moved from precinct to another you should have your registration corrected on the books. See the Circuit Clerk at once and have this attended to as there are four elections to be held in August and one of them at least promises to be interesting.

HAVE NEW WEEVIL REPELLER.

Farmers in Pinola Section Use a Compound That Drives Pests Away.

Pinola, Miss., June 18.—Some of the leading farmers of this section are preparing to fight the boll weevil in a new way by using a mixture of kerosene oil, lubricating oil, pine tar and moth balls. A gunny sack folded four times is tacked to an attachment which is fastened to the plow beam. The sack is cut in strips after being tacked on. The sack is dipped in the mixture and wrung out to prevent dripping. The strips of the sack hang over the cotton, touching the stalks, leaving some of the mixture on the leaves of the cotton. It is said the odor will drive the weevils off. The following is the formula for this mixture: Five gallons of kerosene, one gallon lubricating oil, one pound of moth balls, one pint of tar. The moth balls are crushed and dissolved in the kerosene and the other ingredients successively mixed in by stirring.

High Tribute Paid To President Wilson.

High tribute was paid to President Wilson by Andrew Carnegie and Baron Shaw for his action in obtaining the repeal of the clause in the Panama canal bill exempting American coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls. The speeches were delivered at a dinner in London.

Mr. Carnegie was the guest of honor at the dinner. In addition to remarks on the Panama toll bill, he had hopes he would live to see President Wilson lay the foundations for universal peace.

Baron Shaw advocated the raising of $100,000 to found a British-American chair of history in some great British center of learning and suggested some man like Viscount Bryce as lecturer.

Lumber Manufacturers Employ 785,000 Men.

The manufacturing lumber industry of the United States employs about 785,000 men and its annual manufactured products are valued at $1,160,000,000—more than that of the iron and steel industry of the country. This statement was made by E. V. Babcock, of Pittsburgh, accepting the presidency of the National Hardwood Lumber Association, which ended its seventeenth annual convention at Buffalo last Saturday.

PICTURE FILMS TO ADVERTISE MISSISSIPPI.

State Commission Endorses Plan For Panama Exposition.

Jackson, Miss., June 19.—Mr. John L. Smith, as manager of the Mississippi Exposition commission, and Mr. A. P. Barracks of the Panama-Pacific exposition, have spent several days with Mr. F. S. Hinrich, of Washington, D. C., a publicity expert, relative to featuring Mississippi in motion pictures at the San Francisco fair.

Mr. Hinrich was for several years a correspondent on the Washington Post, and confidential friend of President Roosevelt. He now represents the National Film Company of Washington, D. C., which company is doing educational and industrial motion picture work for Pathe.

The commission has contracted with the National Film Company to make ten thousand feet of Mississippi film, covering the entire State, and its interests, and will make motion pictures of the special educational features of the Mississippi exhibit.

WILL ADVERTISE STATE.

A model auditorium will be equipped in the Mississippi building in San Francisco and each day during the nine and one-half months of the exposition the entire film will be run, supplemented with slides and lectures on Mississippi.

The commission will, with the assistance of expert representatives of the film company, at once proceed to closing contracts with various individuals and interests of the State for moving picture footage to be used in this official film. The contracts will provide that a reasonable fee payable to the Mississippi Exposition Commission; the film will be run as a part of the Mississippi exhibit daily during the three-quarters of a year duration of the exposition.

Who America's Uncrowned King Is

It is public sentiment that makes cowards of us all and yet there is not one man in ten thousand who has any correct idea what public sentiment really is. This is the reason we are all the time having legislation and conducting the government, both country and state, upon what the people do not know instead of what their representatives do know. It is this everlasting craze to bow down, worship and follow public sentiment without regard to whether the sentiment is informed or misinformed; without any regard as to whether the sentiment is right or wrong; which is constantly joggling our legal machinery with cowards and incompetent men; which has resulted in filling our statute books with abortive laws and has created a most deplorable situation.—Carthagenian.

VAST SOUTH GARDENS OF THE MARVEL EXPOSITION CITY AT NIGHT.

Night view of South Gardens and main entrance to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco 1915. Dominating the scene at the left of the picture is the Tower of Jewels, rising 435 feet into the air, its architectural lines marked with thousands of glittering hand-painted crystals of many colors and its whole surface softly glowing with the reflected light from the area which are hidden from the eye by the down the facade, at about the center of the picture, may be seen the slender tower which guard the entrance to the Court of Palms and directly in front of the Tower of Jewels is A. B. S. Calder's "Spindle of Destiny," in the background at the summit of the tower may be seen the top of the triumphal Arch of the Rising Sun, surmounted by the group "The Nations of the East."

A New Mississippi.

When it became apparent that the old battleship Mississippi was to be sold to Greece, Senator John Sharp Williams got busy and began negotiating to have the name perpetuated in the United States navy where it so long has had an honorable position.

Senator Williams wrote the Secretary of the Navy and the President of the United States, acquainting them with his wish and the wish of his people, that one of the dreadnaughts provided for in the navy bill, be christened with the name of the old ship that is to be disposed of, and the following letter from President Wilson, indicates that he has been entirely successful:

"The White House, Washington, D. C., June 8, 1914.

"Hon. John Sharp Williams: "My Dear Senator—I have your letter of June 3, and am heartily in accord with you in the idea that another ship should be named after Mississippi. I will take the matter up with the Secretary of the Navy at once.

"Cordially and faithfully yours, "WOODROW WILSON."

So long has the name "Mississippi" been connected with the United States navy—that to drop it now would be like Hamlet with Hamlet left out. We have had a battleship named Mississippi throughout most of our naval history.

In 1852 the ship commanded by Commodore Perry in his expedition to Japan, was named the "Mississippi"; the ship commanded by Dewey at Port Hudson, bore the same name, and the present battleship which has been doing duty in Mexican waters as the training ship of the aviation corps, was christened the "Mississippi" soon after its completion during the administration of President Roosevelt.

Senator Williams is to be congratulated upon securing the perpetuation of this honored naval name, and President Wilson deserves the thanks of the people of Mississippi for so heartily concurring with him—Clarion Ledger.

"How To Be Happy In Hot Weather."

Rev. P. L. Cobb, pastor of the Highland Park Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Chattanooga, announced that he would preach on "How to Be Happy in Hot Weather," and, as the dramatic critics would say, "he drew a crowded house." His prescription was "Love your neighbors, and be an optimist." He described self-torture suffered by Mr. and Mrs. Pessimism and children. Knock and Calamity Howler, and after repeating the dose of "Love your neighbors," he asked the congregation to join the choir in singing "There Shall Be Showers of Blessings." That prescription is good for all the ills and ailments with which the body politic is afflicted and if it is filled for every man and woman, "There Shall Be Showers of Blessings" for all mankind. Don't try to climb up by pulling your neighbor down. Help your neighbor and he will help you.

As our reverend friend in Chattanooga brought Mr. and Mrs. Pessimism and their children, Knock and Calamity Howler, to mind, we feel that we have a right to add a few remarks about the characteristics of this family. Mrs. Pessimism just naturally seeks the flaw in every man, woman and child, as well as in everything. Nothing good can happen on this mundane sphere, according to their philosophy; they know there is a law to be found, and will not be happy until they find it. Their oldest son, Knock, renders every assistance in his power working night and day, while the other member of the family demonstrate the accuracy of the name, Calamity Howler. They fear that somebody will find pleasure and prosperity in spots or perpetuity, and are miserable until they succeed in spoiling that pleasure or prosperity. They are determined to pull down and destroy, no matter who they strike.

They will not mingle with the members of the optimistic family, the people who believe in the silver lining; the rainbow the let-us-be-happy-while-we-may, the live and let-live the let us be happy, healthy and as prosperous as we are members of the population. The optimistic are striving at all times to see the good in man, the best part in everything on the face of the earth. If they see a flaw, they will try to cure it, and if it cannot be cured or minimized they will endure it with philosophical disposition to make the best of every situation.

They are the men and women who make life well worth the living, who make whatever prosperity we enjoy and whose endeavor is it to make the people happy in hot and cold weather. They are the people who sincerely believe there is enough happiness and prosperity in this world for every man, woman and child, and they want everyone to have his or her full share.—Natchez Democrat.

A reception is a place where women fail to enjoy themselves if they are invited, and get sore if they are not.

Judge Whitman Sustained In Standard Oil Decisions.

The Supreme Court has handed down a decision affirming the ruling of Chancellor chancery court of Lauderdale county, in overruling demurrers to the State's bill of complaint against the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky, Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, and the Galena Signal Oil Company, in which it is alleged that the companies are violating the anti-trust laws of Mississippi, and trying to create a monopoly in this State and claiming more than $10,000,000 fines and penalties on behalf of the State.

The Supreme Court holds that the case as made out by the State in its bill of complaint is one that should go to trial under the statutes of Mississippi. It holds that the case can be tried under the Mississippi law, as the companies ship products into the State for storage, and that the case should be governed by the State's laws.

The case will now be tried on questions of facts before Chancellor Whitman in Meridian, after the defendants have filed answers to the bill of complaint. The Supreme Court allows them 60 days in which to do this.

Woodmen Insurgents Start A Real Fight.

A real test of the insurgent strength at the annual encampment of Modern Woodmen of America has begun. Following a refusal of the delegates to seat the Nebraska insurgent delegates at 1 a. m., the Iowa and Illinois insurgents began a battle to be recognized today. Flanked by threats of court action against the administration, the Iowa and Illinois insurgents declared they will be recognized or disrupt the encampment.
